

OTE YES ON STATEWIDE PROHIBITION

SCRATCH ~~NO~~ SO THAT
YOU MAY VOTE YES ON NO. 3

NOT BY MY VOTE IN MISSOURI.

Men may have strong drink and men may sell liquor in Missouri but NOT BY MY VOTE.

Saloons may go on like a brook, forever, and men may die by the thousands, but NOT BY MY VOTE.

Truth may be crushed and character dismantled; homes may be destroyed and women and children beggared, but NOT BY MY VOTE.

Children may be caught in the saloon snare, the victims of alcohol may fill our jails, almshouses and insane asylums, but NOT BY MY VOTE.

The saloon may impoverish and degrade people; produce idleness, disease and pauperism. It may breed anarchy and crime, but NOT BY MY VOTE.

The state may license the drink traffic and for a consideration take "a reward against the innocent" and bargain away the public health and the public morals, but NOT BY MY VOTE.

The liquor traffic may corrupt the social and political life of Missouri; it may worm its way into all business and even into the be destroyed and women and children beggared, but NOT BY MY VOTE.

The bells may toll the death knell of a human being slain by every five minutes of the day, but NOT BY MY VOTE.

Vote "No" and vote "Yes" on AMENDMENT NUMBER and stop all these things.

Save Them All.

Save the boys and you save the girls.
Save the boys and you save the home.
Save the boys and you save the state.
Save the boys and you save every institution in Missouri worth saving.
You can save them all by destroying the liquor traffic in Missouri. WON'T YOU HELP DO IT?

Think of It, Fathers.

Chaplain Stirling of the Missouri penitentiary says that in the three years he has been chaplain of that institution, more than THIRTY-SEVEN HUNDRED have been admitted as convicts—and mostly young men. More than 1,200 a year; more than 100 a month. In round numbers four every day of the week. What a procession of deformed humanity that means. And it comes from the homes of Missouri. Yours may be the next. If not yours, your neighbor's. Think on this, fathers of Missouri.

A Bad Bargain.

If the people of Missouri were getting all from the liquor traffic that they claim, then it would be an exceedingly bad bargain to sell all the young manhood and young womanhood of Missouri at that price. Don't you think?

Compare With 23rd Psalm

The saloon is my shepherd; I shall always be in want. It maketh me to lie down in the filth of the gutter; it leadeth me into deep waters of trouble. It destroyeth my soul; it leadeth me in the path to the poor house. Yes, though I walk through the valley of sorrow and death, I shall fear snakes and demons, for they shall be with me to torment. It preparat my table before me in the presence of my friends, without any thing on it to eat. It fills my head with pain, and my cup of sorrow runneth over. Surely, evil and justice shall follow me all the days of my life and I may be sent to the penitentiary for ninety-nine years.

Vote YES on Amendment No 3 on Nov. 7th and have a clear conscience.

J. H. IVY.

Which Will You Believe?

The governors of every prohibition state—

The mayor of every prohibition city—

The warden of the penitentiary in every prohibition state—

The sheriffs of prohibition counties—

The bankers, and nearly every other class of business men in state after state and city after city, who tell of the benefits of prohibition—

Or the brewers and distillers who are in the liquor business wholly and solely for the money there is in it?

Which of these do you think would be most likely to tell the truth?

Where Will Our Taxes Come From?

That's easy. We will pay the few million which the brewers collect from us, and which their customers pay, out of the eighty million dollars spent for liquor in this state every year, and then be seventy-five million dollars to the good, which we will distribute among the wives and children of the deluded drinking men of Missouri.

Farmers, Listen.

Only two per cent of the grain products of this nation are used in the manufacture of alcoholic liquors. Not enough to feed the starving millions made so by the liquor traffic for twenty days.

WHO IS THE REAL FRIEND OF LABOR?

What Wilson Said About Unions and Workmen When He Did not Want Their Votes.

I am a fierce partisan of the open shop and of everything that makes for individual liberty.—Speech at open shop banquet, Jan. 12, 1909.

The labor unions reward the shysters and incompetent at the expense of the able and industrious.—Speech People's Forum, New Rochelle, Feb. 25, 1905.

We speak too exclusively of the capitalist class. There is another as formidable an enemy to equality and freedom of opportunity as it is and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of this country.—Speech, Waldorf Hotel, New York, March 16, 1907.

You know what the usual standard of the employee is in our day. It is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trade unions, and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. No one is suffered to do more than the average workman can do.—Address to graduating class, Princeton University, June 3, 1905.

The objections I have to labor unions is that they drag the highest man to the level of the lowest. I must demur with the labor unions when they say "you must award the same as you award those with special gifts."—Speech in People's Forum, New Rochelle, Feb. 25, 1905.

The Chinese were more to be feared as workmen, if not as citizens, than the course crew that came crowding in every year at Eastern ports.—History of American People.

What Hughes Said About Unions and Workmen.

There are some who regard organized labor as a source of strife and menace of difficulty. I regard it as a fine opportunity for the amelioration of the condition of men working with no other purpose than to make the most of themselves and to achieve something for their families.—Speech at dedication of Tuberculosis Pavilion, Albany, New York, Aug. 29, 1908.

The mission of labor organizations is one of the finest that any association of men could guard. Today we have a realization of what can be accomplished.—Speech at Dedication of Tuberculosis Pavilion Aug. 29, 1908.

It is a shocking thought that the wage earners of the country, who by their daily toil make possible the industrial prestige of which we boast, should be subjected through ignorance or indifference to unnecessary peril. The interests of labor are the interests of all the people, and the protection of the wage earner in the security of his life and health by every practical means is one of the most sacred trusts of society.—Speech, Exposition of Safety Devices and Industrial Hygiene, Jan. 28, 1907.

I believe in a six-day working week. So do you. But do you know that the men who are making a six-day week a possibility and an eventual fixture, are these men (labor representatives) and their associates? I long ago came to the conclusion that the labor unions are going to solve the Sunday labor question to the best interest of the country. Join hands with them and you will double your results, while halving your labor.—Address to preachers and labor representatives in Executive Chamber, Albany, 1905.

Famous Ball Player Here.

Carl Mays, a Mansfield boy, who has won fame as a pitcher for the Boston Red Sox, was here this week visiting at the home of his brother, Fred, south of town, and enjoying the splendid hunting and fishing afforded in the Ozarks. He was enroute from Boston to Portland, Ore., and was accompanied by Roland Manary, the son of a wealthy Portland man. They are making the trip in a Buick auto, and report good roads except in Indiana and Illinois.

Get Into The Fight!

Get into the fight for God and right. The fight that is on today, for a church increased in a land released.

From rum's satanic sway! Get into the fight with heart and might. For the weary, pitiful throng Of waifs unclad, and women sad And brother men gone wrong! Get into the fight! time wings its flight—

Get into the fight today! There's work to do, and the call means you—

Get into the fight to stay! Get into the fight! for the Lord of might

Has bidden His Church bestow Her power and wealth for the nation's health,

And the kingdom of God below. Get into the fight! for the dawn is bright

Of a day not far remote, When o'er our land from strand to strand

A "Stainless Flag" shall float. —American Issue.

Lead Hill

To my home bed I find no mother there, And weeping kneel to say the prayer she taught.

Or when I read the Bible that she loved, Or to her vacant seat in church draw near.

I think of her. A voice is in my heart Holding me early seek my God and Love my life as I Saviour—and that voice is hers.

I know it is because these were the Words she used so tenderly with tears, At the twilight hour, or when we Walked in the Spring among rejoicing Birds, or peacefully talked beside the winter hearth.

We are having nice autumn weather but still no ding rain.

Mrs. Crider's mother, Mrs. Matney, and her brother, visited her last week.

Jake Crider had a real bad luck while going to Houston for skin.

One of his horses died on the road as he was coming home. He had to hire one to get his load home.
